

Media behaviour is changing and increasing numbers of enterprises are improving customer accessibility by establishing mobile portals. Most customers take it for granted that you are on the Internet. At the same time, growing numbers of customers assume that they can access the same information via their mobile phones.

LINK Mobile Portals is a simple and intuitive administration tool that enables you to quickly and easily communicate with your customers. You can update information about new products and changes yourself, around the clock. You can also access statistics on visitor totals and which pages at your portal they have visited.
